BLAINE SETS ASIDE BIG TRACT IN VILAS COUNTY AS NATURAL STATE PARK

MADISON, Wis.—Northern Wisconsin is to have one of the largest state park areas in the Great Lakes region. Governor J. J. Blaine, in a letter to Elmer S. Hall, state conservation commission, made public today, directs that an area in Vilas county, sixteen miles long and nine miles wide, including land about Trout lake, be treated as a state park for future development.

As the state owns practically all of the lands within the proposed park area, no expenditure of money would be necessary in acquiring the property. It is in the heart of the "Land o' Lakes" region.

The park includes:

Ninety-two thousand acres of which 76,000 acres are now owned by the state. There will be no further area purchased at the present time.

Forty-two lakes including larger ones such as Trout, Plumb, White Sand, Star and Ballard, all in Vilas county.

The state game farm of 800 acres enclosed by a wire fence 20 feet high within which are 28 elk, donated by Elk lodges of the state, and 350 deer.

The headquarters of the state nursery at Trout lake and the head rangers cabins. Over 2,000 acres of land within the area are planted to new trees from the state nursery. Some of the best tracts of virgin timber in northern Wisconsin are to be found on this land.

Steel lookout towers used by fire wardens to watch for fires.

BRUSH FIRE SMOKE BLINDS DRIVER AND FARMER IS KILLED

Motorist Drives Into Milk Wagon in Dense Fog from Flames

FOND DU LAC, Wis.—Smoke from a marsh fire near here is believed responsible for the death of Charles Krueger, 60, town of Auburn farmer, killed when his milk wagon was struck by an automobile driven by August Voeks, Boltonville, Wis., early Saturday.

Krueger was on his way to the cheese factory and was traveling over a narrow road through a marsh. Fire burning on either side of the road set up a thick smoke which hung heavily over the road preventing Voeks from seeing the milk wagon. The dead man leaves a wife and six children.

Pall of Smoke

ASHLAND, Wis.—A dense fog of smoke from hundreds of small brush fires burning within a radius of fifty miles from here has settled all over the upper lake region.

CONSTANTINOPLE.—By The Associated Press.—Turkish troops reentered Constantinople Saturday after nearly four years of banishment.

LLOYD GEORGE IS CHEERED LEAVING CITY OF NEW YORK

Big Crowd Sees Him Off for Montreal on First Lap of American Tour

NEW YORK.—By The Associated Press.—David Lloyd George left New York for Montreal Saturday on the first lap of his tour of the United States and Canada. His party was aboard a five-car special train.

After being guided by police through a cheering throng of admirers, in the concourse of the Grand Central station, the dapper little Welshman, with his wife and daughter, were established in the private car Ottawa, in which as guests of Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National railways, they will live throughout their tour.

Although he had been first up, after one of the most strenuous days of a strenuous career, Lloyd George was bright-eyed and smiling and the most cheerful of his party. He talked little, but smiled a lot, waving his black walnut stick and doffing his square crowned derby in acknowledgement of the plaudits which accompanied his entourage from the Waldorf-Astoria to the station.

EXHUME BODY OF HUSBAND ALLEGED KILLED BY POISON

WHITEWATER, Wis.—The body of Edward Schaude, alleged to have been poisoned by his wife two years ago, according to her confession, Saturday was exhumed from its resting place in Hillside cemetery here, to furnish evidence in the case against his widow and Ernest Kufahl, her fiance.

The denial of Kufahl that he had aided in the poisoning and the assertion that he did not believe Schaude was poisoned caused Sheriff Wylie to exhume the body.

Dr. C. H. Bunting, state pathologist, and Dr. Mulberger, state toxologist, both of Madison, took the remains of the vital organs. These were taken to Madison, where a careful analysis will be made.

THREE MURDERERS STILL HOLD OUT AGAINST HUNDRED

Kentucky State Prison Under Martial Law as Guards are Held at Bay

AMMONIA SENT FOR TO SMOKE OUT THE TRIO

Firing of Besiegers Cuts Wire and Puts Pen in Darkness

EDDYVILLE, Ky.—Behind armour plate drawn into position by an armored truck, Lieut. Joseph M. Kelly and Private Jack McKnight took up a position between the dining hall and hospital at state penitentiary here at 10:30 Saturday, prepared to throw hand grenades into the fortress of the three convicts in an attack to be made by the releasing of ammonia. Two o'clock was designated as the zero hour.

EDDYVILLE, Ky.—By The Associated Press.—That bullet torn two-story mess hall on the grounds of the Western State penitentiary was the center of a ring of death Saturday. The fourth day of the "siege of Eddyville" arrived and the armed forces of the state of Kentucky were yet to enter the improvised fortress of Monte Walters, Lawrence Griffith and Harry Feeland, convict murderers.

Since early Wednesday the three gunmen have held the barricade, nor yielded in the face of machine gun and rifle fire that crumbled two gaping holes in the walls of the building; a bombardment of tear gas bombs and a barage of rifle grenades. Three of the four guards shot down in the convicts' break for liberty are dead.

Try to Hide Facts

The prison was under military rule Saturday. Three members of the state board of charities and corrections was on the ground. Half a hundred Kentucky national guardsmen were bivouacked in the shadows of the prison walls. Military censorship of press dispatches was inaugurated for a brief period last night, but later was abandoned upon presentation to the authorities of a vigorous protest by newspaper correspondents here to "cover the siege."

There was a noticeable increase in the tense atmosphere within the vicinity of the prison and a feeling was apparent that the gunmen who have made good for three days and nights their desperate stand, would be dislodged. That the occupants, or occupant—it is believed possible one or more of the desperadoes already have been killed—have become restless under the rigors of the siege was indicated during the night when on two occasions watchers detected movements within the mess hall.

Get Pure Ammonia

Three hundred pounds of 100 per cent ammonia was expected to arrive from Paducah. Sufficient equipment as available here, it was stated, to pipe the ammonia to a point where it could be released into the building.

Suspension of the water, light and power supply here and at the state penitentiary a mile distant, took place early Saturday due to what is thought to have been the shattering of the main electric power cable supplying light and power to the penitentiary by random firing of state guards. Drinking water for the prisoners is being carried to the prison from a pond in the enclosure.

Close Schools

Public schools here have been ordered closed until after the revolting convicts at the western Kentucky state penitentiary near here have been subdued it was announced today. Many farmers and also residents here walk the streets armed and are afraid to permit their children freedom of the streets.

Many groundless rumors are afloat. Matched against the fears of local residents, is the report of managers of hotels who said that large offers of premiums were being made for rooms by curious throngs constantly pouring in to witness the battle of Eddyville."

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Nearly a million and a half persons visited the country's national parks and monuments during the 1923 season.

BERLIN PARTIES BACK TO COALITION--CABINET GOVERNMENT RESUMED

HUSBAND AND WIFE SENTENCED TO YEAR AS CHECK FORGERS

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ham Tell Judge Higbee of Drug Habits When Arraigned

WESTERN HOTEL, BLUFF VIEW INN INJUNCTIONS ARE SIGNED

Mrs. Julia Olson Obtains Divorce, Deserted Nine Years Ago

ROY V. HAM and his wife, Adeline Ham, alias Allen, were sentenced to one year each in state's prison by Judge Higbee in circuit court Saturday morning. They pleaded guilty to charges of passing forged checks.

Ham and his wife were arrested last Monday afternoon after the woman had cashed checks for $15 each at Frank Mader's and A. E. Anderberg's stores, making purchases in each store. They pleaded guilty when arraigned in county court on Tuesday and again entered pleas of guilty before Judge Higbee.

Tell of Drug Habit

As they stood before the court to receive sentence Saturday morning, they told a story of two lives wrecked by the use of morphine. Ham said he had been a drug user for 12 years and his wife said she acquired the habit four years ago. Both had become drug addicts through taking it in medicine, they said.

Both had been married before. Ham has a son living with relatives at Monrovia, Cal., near Los Angeles. The woman has a son and daughter, 16 and 18 years old, with her folks in Cleveland. Ham is 42 and the woman is 40. They were married in Cleveland a number of years ago, they said. They were coming east from Los Angeles. They started to drive east in an automobile, they said, and got as far as Miles City, Mont.

Sell Car in Miles City

Tire trouble and damage to the car about used up their funds, they declared, so they sold the car for $30 and their funds lasted them until they got to La Crosse. They were here several days when they 'went broke" and passed the bad checks to get money to continue their journey east, they told the authorities.

They had been fighting the drug habit for a long time, they told the court, and had succeeded in cutting down their needs to one grain of morphine each a day. They seemed ed welcome the idea that they would be sent to prison where they would get treatment that might aid them in breaking the chains of the drug habit.

Western Hotel, Roadhouse Closed

Judge Higbee on Saturday signed temporary injunction against the Western hotel and Bluff View Inn, on State road. These civil actions were brought against both places by District Attorney Gordon under the Linley law, which gives the state authority to close up places as nuisances until the cases are tried in court.

Mrs. Julia Olson was granted a divorce on Saturday from Thomas Olson on grounds of desertion. Mrs. Olson alleged that they were married in Chicago June 28, 1914, and that she was deserted in La Crosse on August 1, 1914, after a married life of a little more than a month.

Judge Higbee also confirmed the sheriff's sale of the property of Joseph Bagniewski to partially satisfy the judgment obtained by William Femar against Bagniewski for money loaned to the latter.

GERMANS FLEEING TO SWISS PEACE

GENEVA.—By The Associated Press.—German families, rich and poor, are fleeing from the unrest in their country and for the past few weeks have been crossing the Swiss frontier in large numbers. They are admitted as are other tourists under the Swiss law but the workmen, most of whom come from Bavaria and along the Rhine, receive permission to remain only one or two months so they will not compete with Swiss workers, as there are already 100,000 unemployed in this country. Many of the immigrants are penniless.

TRAGEDY AT PARTY

GREEN BAY, Wis.—A children's costume party was turned into tragedy here Friday night when Jane McPherson, 14 years old, ran into a lighted "Jack-o'-Lantern" igniting her paper costume and burning her so severely as to cause death.

PREDICTED THAT MOVE ONLY DELAYS NEW DICTATORSHIP

Stinnes in Conference With Heads of French Occupation in the Ruhr

LONDON.—Chancellor Stresemann in his speech before the German reichstag Saturday said, according to the Berlin correspondent of the Central News, that the reichstag would be asked to renounce its rights for a long time and grant powers to the cabinet much greater than had ever before been given to a cabinet anywhere.

BERLIN.—By The Associated Press. —A resuscitation of Chancellor Stresemann's defunct four party coalition Friday night put an end to the parliamentary crisis, the mysterious origin of which is only exceeded in novelty by its baffling solution, in that the four warring parties virtually agreed there had been no ground for disagreement three days ago and that a revamping of the coalition was the only way out of the dilemma.

Predict Dictatorship

Although the coalition was being resuscitated, reichstag circles professed to have little hope that it could long retain office and were of the opinion that dictatorship was only a question of time. The chancellor's plans for a non-partisan cabinet of four ministries have been laid aside because the coalition leaders were desirous of preserving party interests and prestige. He also found that none of the industrial experts whom he approached was anxious to enter a ministry that would inevitably have on its hands a battle with the reichstag.

Stresemann completed the formation of his new cabinet, in which he will act as minister of foreign affairs as well as chancellor, with Dr. Hans Luther taking the port-folio of minister of finance and Herr Koeth that of public economy.

When Chancellor Stresemann presented his reconstructed cabinet to the reichstag Saturday he was nettled by interruptions from the opposition parties and once turned to the president, Paul Loebe with a request that order be restored.

Look For Crisis Soon

The hostility with which the chancellor was greeted by the extreme right and left parties and the pronounced nervousness displayed in the ranks of the four government parties presages breakers ahead for his second attempt to salvage Germany with a socialist-bourgeois ministry.

The concensus of opinion in political circles is that unless he succeeds in adjourning the house indefinitely he will be confronted with an acute crisis within a week.

The chancellor reproached the critics of the parliamentary system by charging Big Business with having refused to lend the government the services of their leaders and in failing otherwise to come to its rescue.

His speech was occupied mainly with a defense of his Ruhr policy and with the foreign situation, and contained no definite reference to his program of economic dictatorial measures for which he is seeking authority from the reichstag.

The cabinet as now announced follows:

Chancellor and minister of foreign affairs—Dr. Gustav Stresemann.

Minister of the interior—Wilhelm Sollmann.

Minister of finance—Dr. Hans Luther.

Minister of labor — Heinrich Brauns.

Minister of public economy—Dr. Koeth.

Minister of justice—Gustav Radbruch.

Minister of reicheswehr—Dr. Otto Gessler.

Minister of posts—Herr Hoefe.

Minister of communications—RudolphOeser.

Minister of occupied regions—Johannes Fuchs.

Minister of reconstruction—Robert Schmidt.

The post of minister of supplies remains unfilled.

Stinnes Visits French

DUESELDORF.—By The Associated Press.—Hugo Stinnes, the German industrial magnate, who arrived here on Friday, spent an hour at the jail Friday night, chatting with Baron Krupp von Bohlen, head of the Krupp works, who is serving a sentence for obstructing the Franco-Belgian occupation authorities.

Afterward, in a French general staff car, he went to the French head-

SESSION IS CALLED FOR IMPEACHMENT

Second Summons Sent to Legislators is Based on Recent Elections

WONDER IF WALTON WILL USE TROOPS THIS TIME

Pointed Out He is Fighting Vote in Court

OKLAHOMA, Okla.—By The Associated Press.—A call for a special session of both houses of the Oklahoma legislature on Oct. 17 to investigate the "commission of impeachable offenses by the officers of the state subject to impeachment" was issued here Fri. night by W. D. McBee, state representative from Stephens county.

The call was made under the alleged authority of a constitutional amendment approved at the polls on Tuesday by citizens of the state.

The summons sets out that it was issued upon "written requests signed by a majority of the members of the house of representatives asking that the legislature be convened pursuant to the mandate of the people.

Oklahoma's tangled skein of political chaos assumed further complications as members of the state legislature prepared for their second attempt to convene in extraordinary session to consider impeachment charges against Governor J. C. Walton.

Gather at Capital

Legislators are reported already gathering in Oklahoma City for the assembly on October 17, in response to a call issued last night by W. D. McBee, of Stephens county, heading more than a majority of the lower house membership. Attention was last night focused on the executive mansion with the expectation that Governor Walton would define his attitude toward the meeting.

In the absence of an official statement doubt was expressed in some quarters that the governor would adopt the military measures by which he prevented the law-makers from meeting at their own call on September 26.

From well-informed sources came the report that Aldrich Blake, the executive counsellor, would not consent to such stringent tactics; and some went so far as to say that as a last resort he would recommend that the governor himself call the legislature for a final coup d'etat. What the executive could hope to gain by such a stroke, however, remained problematical.

Women Help Walton

Meanwhile, a new element entered the situation with the announcement by a group of women that they will join forces with Governor Walton, in his effort to prevent the legislature from meeting under a constitutional amendment passed in last Tuesday's election.

Hearing for a permanent injunction on the governor's contention that the election was illegal inasmuch as it had been postponed by executive decree, is set for next Tuesday.

The legislators declared Friday night that neither "whim nor force" will stop them since they have been called to meet "by command of the people."

Kansas Fights Klan

FORT SCOTT, Kas.— Application for an injunction restraining members of the Ku Klux Klan and all other persons from parading in masks anywhere in Kansas, was set for hearing here Saturday before Judge E. C. Gates in the Bourbon county district court.

The suit is separate from the action brought in the state supreme court several months ago at the instigation of former Governor Henry J. Allen, asking that the Ku Klux Klan be ousted from Kansas. The ouster suit is still pending.

A CHALLENGE TO THE YOUNG PEOPLE

OF LA CROSSE

According to national reports, we find ourselves, in this city, below the average of interest and efficiency in young people's religious organization.

AN APPEAL IS HEREBY MADE

to all thoughtful young folk who believe in the principles of Christianity to consider the importance of supporting the young people's societies of their respective churches.

In twelve months the number of cotton growers in Australia had increased from 2000 to 15,000. It has been estimated that next year there would be more than 20,000 cotton growers in Queensland and that the area under cotton would increase from 70,000 acres planted this year to at least 150,000 acres.

DR. MAYO MAKES EXACT STATEMENT ON CANCER CURE

Corrects Mistaken Impression that He Had Said There Was No Cure for the Disease

ROCHESTER, Minn.—By The Associated Press.—At a meeting of the general staff of the Mayo clinic, held a few days ago, Dr. W. J. Mayo referred to recent newspaper comment on his remarks made with regard to the present status of the cancer problem, quoting him as declaring, in substance, that there was no cure for cancer. In the course of a lecture in London in July Dr. Mayo said, "There is no medical cure for cancer," in other words, no medicine taken internally will cure the disease. Continuing, he said that a great deal of experimental work was in progress in all parts of the world, all of which gradually was adding important knowledge concerning this serious disease, but, unfortunately, these investigations, which have been made on animals, have not, as yet, any direct application to human subjects.

Dr. Mayo, in his talk to his staff, said that the cure of cancer depends on diagnosis and removal at the earliest possible time. In some manner, the laity must be taught to understand these truths. Experience in the Mayo clinic has been that 71.8 per cent of patients operated on for cancer when the disease is still localized, that is, has not extended beyond the primary focus, are cured by operation, and the large majority of the remainder greatly benefited, and many have been cured even when the disease had extended beyond the primary focus.

Surgical operation is the only method of removal to be seriously considered, Dr. Mayo continued, because it permits removal, with the growth, of surrounding tissues and glands that may have become involved in the disease. The X-ray, radium, and other agents have a field of usefulness in connection with surgery, but a patient should not be subjected to X-ray, radium or other similar treatment without careful surgical consultation since, if such agents are used while the disease is still local, and fail to cure, the resultant tissue changes delay dependable surgical operation and may perhaps prevent it. Radiotherapy and other treatment in the hands of untrained persons, or those whose knowledge is limited to one type of treatment, do an enormous amount of harm. Lacking knowledge, these practitioners are not able to differentiate and apply the method which experience would show to be the best method suited to the individual patient.

Dr. Mayo now permits these statements to be made public in the hope of correcting an unfortunate impression which has been spread by many newspapers in this country. Since his return from Great Britain he has had an enormous number of letters from persons suffering from cancer, the letters containing clippings from newspapers in all parts of the United States purporting to quote him as saying, "There is no cure for cancer," without reference to his basic statement that surgical removal does cure the disease. What Dr. Mayo actually said was, "There is no medical cure for cancer."

Reforestation to Pay Debts

By a community scheme of reforestation, the town of Ilion, N. Y., hopes to benefit its people in a material way and at the same time reach a substantial profit. In 1910 approximately 5,000 pine tree seedlings and 37000 spruce were planted on unproductive land that skirted its reservoir. Since then trees have been set out from time to time until a total of 50,500 trees were planted and about ninety per cent are living. It is anticipated that these will have such commercial value in the next thirty years that the money realized from sales of timber will liquidate the outstanding municipal bonds.

Bacon Now An American Staple

Bacon, which once went begging at 10 cents a pound, is now an almost indispensable part of the American breakfast. At five times the former price the supply hardly equals the demand. This change is due to the improved quality of the bacon, the thin slicing by machine, and the fact that the public has learned that this meat is one of the most nourishing and appetizing foods.

HOLD MEMORIAL FOR AUTOMOBILE VICTIMS

Rio de Janeiro Honors the Memory of Those Who Died in Accidents

RIO DE JANEIRO.—By The Associated Press.—A special Memorial day for the victims of automobile accidents was celebrated in this city recently with such popular interest and support that very probably it will become an annual event.

The idea of an automobile victims' memorial day grew out of a proposal, probably made by some wag, to celebrate a "chauffeurs' day" in homage to the powerful labor organization which protects the interests of the automobile drivers. But owing to the large number of automobile accidents, with their toll of killed and maimed, the automobile drivers, as a class, are not beloved by the people. The public protest that was organized into a day of homage to the auto drivers' victims.

Mass for the souls of the automobile victims was celebrated in the church of Sao Francisco de Paulo, one of the largest temples in this city, and the crowd which attended, consisting for the most part of relatives and friends of those who had been killed by automobiles, filled the great building to overflowing.

Wreaths of flowers were spread on the graves of automobile victims and other flowers were placed on some of the "death corners" of streets where automobile accidents have been frequent.

All of these ceremonies were viewed with great public interest, and called forth much press comment.

Although official statistics concerning automobile accidents have not been published, it is estimated that an average of five persons are killed or injured by automobiles in this city every day.

Asbestos has been found in Hungary, Russia, New South Wales, New Zealand and Cape Colony.

The Real Thing

TRAVELERS interviewed in Chicago report that Senator La Follette was shown little consideration by the Russian government. The Chicago dispatch, in distinguishing between this neglect of the Wisconsin senator as compared with "special trains" and "chosen routes" provided by the government for "visitors of influence," seems almost like a little slap at "Our Bob." The interviewer even chuckled at the thought of the immaculate Robert M. fighting cooties in a box car.

We hope the dispatch is true. "Americans of influence," traveling in special trains over selected routes at the courtesy of the soviet government, have come back with a set of impressions made to order for their consumption. They have come home to spread as their own the very ideas which the bolshevik dictators have selected for them. Of Russian life in the rough they know nothing because they saw nothing.

Despite the annoyance of box cars and bugs, if our correspondent is correct, Senator La Follette is enjoying the privilege of seeing the real soviet Russia. That is what he went to Russia for. Senator La Follette has always been a liberal. Perhaps more because of some of his associations, than because of his official acts, some people call him a radical. It is improbable, however, that he has lost faith in democracy, even though his criticisms of some of its manifestations have been vigorous. Therefore it may be assumed that if he sees the real soviet Russia in its nakedness, and if it is inconsistent with democratic principles, he will get the facts and draw intelligent conclusions.

It may be observed in conclusion that if as a matter of fact the soviet government has neglected Senator La Follette because it thought he has no influence it has made a serious mistake. Whatever report of Russia Senator La Follette brings home will go thundering across the country into hundreds of thousands of sympathetic ears.

We certainly congratulate Senator La Follette upon the box cars and cooties. If he is looking for soviet Russia as it really is, his chance to find it is worth all the annoyance it is costing him.

Not Practicing

SENATOR Magnus Johnson, talking to Chicago's biggest business men, said that more love is the need of the hour. He is right, but one would like to know when Senator Magnus awoke to this discovery. It was not apparent during his campaign, which was the regulation radical attack under the usual barrage of hate for Wall Street, finance and big business. If one could search the Johnson mind he would probably find that by "more love" he means more love from capital toward farm and labor. There would probably be nothing about more love of farm and labor for capital. Johnson's philosophy, like that of most men who see one side of a question to the exclusion of the others, is one-sided. More love would help to solve our problems, but the gospel advice to "love them that hate you" is a counsel of perfection that capitalists as well as farmers and laborers find it hard to practice. If Senator Johnson thinks that more love will help, it might be well for him to undertake to spread a little of it. Even Wall Street has certain good points that could be recognized without prejudice to the interests of farmer-labor party members—if one wanted to do it.

Sentimental Henry

HENRY FORD is a queer mixture of hard-headed practicality and sentiment. He runs his business like a cold-blooded machine, buying the cream of the labor market at the best prices, but driving it ruthlessly to produce more than it costs him. He drops executives whose ideas fail to pan out, or cross his ideas, as nonchalantly as a straw-boss fires a hobo laborer. Yet he is constantly taking sentimental journeys hither and yon to remind himself of his days of boyhood struggle.

He spent thousands of dollars to find a replica of an old heating stove that stood in his father's house. He spent more thousands to dig up the threshing machine he operated as his first mechanic's job. He bought the old house around which "Tales of a Wayside Inn" were written. And a hundred more examples of the rich vein of sentimentality in the business wonder of the period could be exhumed by a careful reading of his biography.

Evidently, too, Mr. Ford is proud of this streak in him, for every such incident is carefully recorded in his biography, and receives due attention in the press. It is a curious example of the hard-headedness which is Ford's other chief characteristic that he never fails to get the full publicity value out of every action to which he is moved by a tender memory.

Perhaps it is indicative of the nature of the man that his sentimental excursions revolve around his own interests, chiefly. Mr. Ford is not noted for his charity—his gifts to public causes would not make a tithe of what the Rockefellers have given and are giving annually. Benefits to the public from his operations have usually been co-incidental with benefits to Ford. His sentiment has a narrow scope—it is only in business that the Ford eye scans wide horizons.

Simple

INDUSTRIAL engineers in the east are launching a movement to simplify spelling. Roosevelt had the same idea, and it's a sensible one. Stenographers alone waste thousands of hours of time by needless typing of such things as "ph" where "f" would serve as well. Or "cigarette" for "cigaret" and "catalogue" for "catalog." The supply of time and energy available for each of us is limited. Why waste any of it with useless effort?

The Lighted Candle

By RUBY DOUGLAS

Isabel was of the opinion that she must have been ushered into this world by candlelight. She was so confident of the influence of this soft light on her disposition that she felt sure it was not merely an inordinate fondness for the mellow glow but a trick of the fate for which she had such profound respect.

She was an unusual combination of the practical and the artistic type of girl. She could create a poem—not wonderful, to be sure—or she could create a salad out of her own resourcefulness that would be a veritable picture to look upon and equally tasty and digestible at the same time. She could sing and play with understanding skill one of Brahms's most subtle creations, and yet the same girl could sit at the piano and teach with patience and practical application her sister's child to do her scales and exercises.

Therefore, it was not strange that with this many-sided nature she had found it difficult to center her affections on a single sort of a man with whom to travel through life. Yet she knew she should marry. She knew she would marry. But whom?

All sorts of men liked her, artists, musicians, brokers, bankers, floorwalkers, tradesmen, father's friends and brother's friends alike. She had no difficulty finding companionship, because within herself there was always the response that a quality in another temperament called forth.

She had just been reading a little volume with a whimsical painted binding—a ship sailing on a vague blue sea with a vaguer blue sky beyond. "Where the Blue Begins," was the title, and the text was as fantastic, as capricious as even Isabelle's most impractical moments could lead her to desire.

"I wonder where it does begin?" she asked herself as she closed the little volume. "I wonder."

It was twilight, and the sky outside her window was just bidding a reluctant good-by to the warm afterglow of the sun. Isabel lighted a candle on her table. Then she arose and lighted a pair on the mantelpiece and a sconce holding three candles on the wall.

She was waiting for a man whom she had found very companionable and interesting. They had danced together; dined together. He had played tennis with her and he had taken her for long drives in his roadster. He was doing well enough in his business, and he was older than Isabel.

"I seem to miss something in him," she was thinking as she sat there in the yellow glow. "I suppose I shall always miss something in every one."

Footsteps on the porch brought her back. She went to the door to greet—not the man she had been thinking of, but another.

"Why, Bruce Benjamin! I didn't know you were even on this side of the Atlantic," she cried, giving him both her hands impulsively and dragging him into the room.

"I haven't been—long," said the man. "Arrived last night and am off again the end of the week."

They had not seen each other for months and their last meeting had been anything but a cheery moment. Something in the environment or the stars had led them that night into sentimental channels and the man, without forethought, apparently, had told Isabel all sorts of things that neither one of them really believed. They had been a bit ashamed of it afterward and he had sailed away on foreign business without seeing her again.

Seated in the candlelight, both the man and the girl recalled vividly their last meeting and there was a moment of embarrassment which each one of them promptly dispelled. But during that one brief lapse it had occurred to them that something imperceivable to both had placed them together again almost as soon as they were in the same country.

Before they had time for getting acquainted again the other man arrived and made it a trio, with all the three-cornered necessities of conversation. She was not unaware of the undertow of romance that seemed to be dragging her out of the prosaic conventional atmosphere of the room, but she concealed it with dexterity and neither of the men felt uncomfortable.

It must have been another prearranged move on the programme of destiny that made it necessary for John Hamilton to leave so early. He seemed genuinely to dislike leaving. He seemed to have a bona-fide engagement that called him. It was not beause he felt himself a third.

Alone, Isabel and Bruce Benjamin lapsed into an awkward silence for a moment.

"Nice fellow—John." The man felt that he should say something.

"One of the finest," countered Isabel, quickly.

Further silence. Isabel studied the flickering candle on the table beside her. The man watched her with eyes that would have told any observer that what he might have told her many months ago had not been a mistake but probably the most sincere, most earnest speech of his life.

"Are you doing my singing—or writing, Isabel?" he asked at last.

Isabel shrugged her shoulders. "Oh, not much," she said. "I think I'm too restless to do much serious work." She was still watching the flame.

"You'll never do much serious work in those lines—pretty bits, saleable verse, songs that folks will love to hear but will never get you on the stage."

She looked at him suddenly, open-eyed, perhaps a bit of annoyed. He could not tell. He did not care. His time was short.

"You're not complimentary, at least," she retorted after a moment in which she had seen an expression that she could not meet with annoyance.

"I mean to be. You are a wonderful girl, Isabel. I've been about the world since I left you. I've seen lovely women of all ages and all nationalities. Some have physical attractions, others mental attributes that I admired. But always, your face, the warmth of your personality came before me and I compared them with the wonderful You, Isabel. No—look at me—" he said, as she dropped her eyes and left him only the highlights of her golden hair in the candle glow to look upon—"I want to tell you everything now and get your answer. I love you, you know that. I knew it the better now that I have been away from you for long dreary months. Does it make any difference? Shall I have to go back to my duties in another country in a few days leaving you here?"

Isabel looked at him steadily. Something quite out of the ordinary was taking place within her emotional range; she was climbing from one peak to another, quickly, breathlessly. "I——"

He rose and went toward her. "You do?. I believe you do! I see it. I feel it," he cried.

And then after a long silent moment she drew away from him. "You don't even know what I was going to say, Bruce. I was going to tell you that I had found out where the blue begins."

And then she had to explain to him all about the book and her fancies and the tiny bit of blue she had found at the foot of the candle-flame on the table that night. "I felt that it was a good omen, dear, because of all the times I have looked into candlelight, I had never noticed that infinitesimally small spark of blue in the flame before."

OUT OUR WAY — BY WILLIAMS

UNDER THE CAPITOL DOME

Odds and Ends of State Affairs by William J. Anderson

MADISON, Wis.—The city attorneys of Eau Claire, Chippewa Falls, and Menomonie and La Crosse have been in Madison during the past week working with the railroad commission to find some solution of the difficulty into which a supreme court decision has plunged them. The railroad commission had established a schedule of rates for electricity furnished to the cities named by the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light and Power company, the company which until lately has owned and operated the big Wisota dam. The schedule was based on the loop system, upon which the electric company operates its system, instead of a system which takes the individual municipality as the unit in rate making. The loop system of rate making was objected to by the cities involved, the matter went to the supreme court, and the court held that each city must be considered a unit in building a rate schedule. Immediately following this decision, the Wisconsin-Minnesota company undertook to place in effect a schedule of its own, which all the cities and the railroad commission objected to. Now the cities named, the representatives of the electric company, and the railroad commission are trying to work out schedules for the cities that will meet the requirements of the supreme court. The whole controversy goes to show what a complex thing the making of electrical rates has come to be.

The latest bit of political gossip to escape is that Senator Roy P. Wilcox of Eau Claire will enter the race for governor if former Governor Phillip decides to be a candidate. It will be recalled that Governor Phillip, by securing the nomination three years ago of Colonel Gilbert Seaman, compassed the defeat of Senator Wilcox in the primary, and made John J. Blaine governor. If Senator Wilcox should enter the field next year, it might well be because he considered himself unfairly used by Phillip.

Lieutenant Governor Comings intends to begin his campaign for the gubernatorial nomination as the representative of the dry progressives immediately. He believes that much educational work needs to be done along economic lines, and will undertake the job. The lieutenant governor is a man who makes friends wherever he goes, and if he remains in the field, will poll a big vote in the primaries.

HERE'S A MAN WHO SAYS 13 IS LUCKY NUMBER

MONROE, Wis.—The number thirteen never has held forth any ill luck for Emery Odell, who had retired as postmaster here after thirteen years of continuous service.

For many years he has obtained automobile license number thirteen in Green county. On Oct. 13, this year, Mr. Odell will have been in the newspaper business a quarter of a century. He relates that when he first started his daily paper, the Monroe Evening Times, he had no money, and went to the bank to borrow $400. He was met with the answer that he was not known well enough to be advanced credit. He was told he must obtain accommodation endorsers among the business men for his note.

Young Odell took his note around town and presently came back to the bank with thirteen signers on his note. He obtained the money.

HATCHES SMASHED ON LEVIATHAN BY WAVES OF STORM

CHERBOURG.—The U. S. shipping board steamer Leviathan arrived Friday night with her hatchway doors smashed as a result of Wednesday's unusually severe storm. Officers of the liner reported that the waves swept as high as the first bridge. The Leviathan was able to average only twenty-one knots on her run from New York and for four hours it was necessary to reduce her speed to four knots.

EXPECT HIGHER MILK

MADISON, Wis.—The annual meeting of the Madison Milk Producers' association during the latter part of October will probably result in a raise in price of Madison milk. Producers are now getting $2.40 a hundred pounds. Milo K. Swanton, president of the association, asserted that a higher price will be demanded.

PAYS BIG FINE ON ASSAULT CHARGE IN WINONA COURT

WINONA, Minn. — Edward Olszewski, aged 25, Friday stood sentenced to pay a fine of $500 or serve five months in the county jail as the result of his conviction by a jury in district court of a charge of assault in the second degree for interfering with a police officer in the performance of his duty.

The charge against Olszewski was the outgrowth of a disturbance at the east end baseball park Sunday, Aug. 12, in which it was alleged that Olszewski attempted to release Larry Rymarkiewicz, arrested for intoxication, from the custody of Officers John Malosh and Michael Bambenek and asaulted Officer Malosh by pulling and striking him.

ZEV IS NAMED TO MEET PAPYRUS IN $100,000 DERBY

Sinclair's Horse Gets Call to Face English Derby Winner October 20

MY OWN IS NAMED AS SECOND CHOICE IN RACE

Official Announcement is Made Friday Night

NEW YORK.—It was officially announced Friday night that Harry Sinclair's three year old Zev has been selected to meet Papyrus, English derby winner, in the $100,000 international race on October 20.

The official announcement, coming as it has twenty-four hours before the time set by the Jockey club comittee, was due, it was said, to the fact a member of the committee made the decision known at Belmont park Friday afternoon.

The official statement from Major August Belmont's office follows:

"The committee of the Jockey club —August Belmont, Joseph E. Widener, William Woodward, Robert L. Gerry and W. S. Vosburgh—named to select an American three year old to race against the Epsom derby winner, Papyrus, for a purse of $100,000 at Belmont park, Saturday, Oct. 20, made known its decision on Friday.

Three Horses Named

"Under the terms of the agreement, three horses were to be named, and, in case of sickness of disability, they would pick the field in sequential order.

"The choice included Zev, My Own and Untidy, and Zev, if he remains fit and well, will be the horse.

"My Own is second on the list, outranking Untidy, which will only face the derby winner in case both colts are out of commission on the day of the race.

"The definite choice of Zev sets at rest any speculation as to the chances of My Own outranking him for the honor and puts an end to the controversy which has been raging for the last two weeks.

"When the articles of agreement were being signed at Doncaster, England, the representative of Major Belmont called Mr. Irish's attention to the possibility of all three horses that might be named three weeks before the race, going wrong or being destroyed by fire, or through accident.

"The British sportsman thereupon agreed that the Jockey club should have the right to name a candidate up to the day before the race.

Doesn't Want Walkaway

"I want the American people to see my horse in a race," said he, "and I am ready to subscribe to any terms that will guarantee a contest.

"There would be no satisfaction in sending Papyrus to America for a walkover.

"The choice of Zev can not fail to increase interest in the international race, and from now until October 20, every move of Papyrus and his rival will be followed with eagerness by lovers of the sport everywhere."

HARRY HUTCHINS NAMED PRESIDENT OF NORMAL "L" CLUB

The letter men of the La Crosse Normal school have reorganized for the year with the election of Harry Hutchins as president. Other officers for the year are Herbert Fisher, vice-president; Kenneth Zahrte, secretary; and Glenn Brown treasurer.

The club is planning an active year and are pushing the first annual homecoming of the school at the present time. The organization plans to be active in every branch of school work this year.

At the last meeting held at the Doering hotel Sox Mower and Al Johnson, former "L" men were honor guests. Robert Nohr, Jr., athletic director and sponsor gave a short talk. J. F. Rolfe of the alumni also addressed the meeting.

WHITE SUCCUMBS TO MORAN FRIDAY IN GAME BATTLE

NEW YORK.—No greater display of gameness has been witnessed in Madison Square Garden than that of Charley White of Chicago, who in the fourteenth round of Friday night's gruelling battle, succumbed to a storm of blows showered on him by Pal Moran of New Orleans. It was a technical knockout, for Referee Haley, instead of completing the count, motioned White's handlers to help their man to his corner.

A right hook to the jaw in the eleventh round spelled White's doom as leading contender for Benny Leonard's crown.

"GIANTS RALLY IN EIGHTH AND COP FROM YANKEES IN OPENING BATTLE OF WORLD SERIES, 3-2"

THE Giants won the opening game of the world's series Friday. The score was 3 to 2.

What's that?—You say—has the world's series started already?

Yes siree, the Yankees and Giants lined up yesterday just as they did a year ago on October 4 at the Polo Grounds, New York. The Giants overcame a two run lead in the eighth inning by scoring three runs. They chased Bush from the mound in that inning, you remember, Waite Hoyt taking his place.

That was the game scores of fans saw reproduced on the Tribune's Playograph mounted on the roof of the building at Fifth and Jay streets Friday afternoon. It was a practice game for both fans and operators of the board, looking forward to the real world's series starting next Wednesday which will be reproduced on the Playograph each day.

Fans who saw the board "work" Friday claim it is the cleverest mechanical device for reproducing ball games they had ever seen. Every action on the diamond is shown to make the reproduction perfect, and as one fan said, "the only thing you don't see is the crowd of spectators."

The next rehearsal will be held Monday afternoon at 3:30. The second game of the 1922 series will be played over.

BIG THREE GIVES FIRST DISPLAY ON GRIDIRON TODAY

Yale Draws Most Difficult Assignment in Opener With North Carolina

NEW YORK.—The first 1923 display of the Harvard, Yale and Princeton gridiron elevens, each against a small college opponent and the annual meeting of Pittsburgh and Lafayette in a game which may figure in determining the so-called eastern football champion, lend considerable importance to Saturday's college football.

Of the big three terms, Yale appears to have drawn the most difficult assignment, North Carolina.

Harvard's first foe, Rhode Island State, is not generally believed capable of furnishing very rugged opposition, nor is Johns Hopkins thought sufficiently strong to force Princeton in the third engagement involving a big three team.

LOOS AND KIRKWOOD PLAY THIRD ROUND AT WICHITA COURSE

WICHITA, Kas.—By The Associated Press.—With the record before them of far better than par golf hung up Friday by Joe Kirkwood, former Australian champion, and Eddie Loos, Chicago professional, forty players Saturday swung into the third round of the second annual mid-continent open golf tournament at the Wichita Country club.

Eighteen holes this morning and the same number this afternoon will conclude the 72 hole medal play. The ten with the lowest scores will participate in the distribution of prizes, cash to professionals and trophies to amateurs.

Kirkwood and Loos were tied for first honors with 135 at the end of the first 36 holes. Par for the course is 74.

William Mehlborn, of St. Louis, former Texas open champion and winner of the Mid-continent tournament last year, came in third with 138.

IOWA CLASHES WITH KNOX TODAY SECOND FOR EACH

IOWA CITY, Ia.—Iowa met Knox college at Galesburg, Ill.—Saturday, in the second football game of the season for each eleven. Coach Jones of the Hawkeyes planned to use the same line-up that downed the Oklahoma Aggies last Saturday and which includes seven men who have yet to play in their first western conference contest. All the Iowans were in good condition.

BUT ONE GAME SATURDAY HAS BEARING ON CHASE FOR TITLE IN CONFERENCE OF NORMALS

Normal Conference Schedule:
La Crosse Normal, idle.
Oshkosh at Marquette, Mich.
Superior at Fargo, N. D.
River Falls at Northfield.
Whitewater at De Kalb Normal.
Hibbing Jr. College at Eau Claire.
Platteville at Stevens Point.
Milwaukee at Carroll college.

WITH all of the schools except La Crosse and Stout institute, of the Normal conference, comprising the nine normals and Stout institute, in action today, coaches at the various institutions will be watching the outcome with great interest, looking to the possibilities of winning the state championship.

But one of the clashes today, that between Platteville and Stevens Point, is of conference nature.

A majority of the games are still tests for the various squads, and feeders upon which the conference coaches hope to build up a lot of enthusiasm for the title chase, which will be in full swing next week.

For Oshkosh, River Falls and Milwaukee elevens, the Saturday games will be the first of the season. The other schools of the circuit have participated in minor contests, which, while devoid of conference bearing tend to point out possibilities of strength and set as an index to the caliber of opponents the La Crosse Normal will face this year.

While the local school has not yet demonstrated great ability in the field, Coach Keeler's squad is being considered one of the best title possibilities in the conference.

Superior Normal is considered equally strong. An important game of the conference is scheduled for October 13, when Oshkosh meets Superior on the latter's gridiron.

Picking the Leaders

Opening games last Saturday seemed to demonstrate that Superior, Whitewater, La Crosse and Platteville have strong teams. Those schools won their opening events easily, with the exception of Platteville, which team played a scoreless tie with Mt. Morris college. Superior had little difficulty running up a score of 40 to 0 over Eveleth, Minn., Junior college eleven. Whitewater defeated Northwestern college 16 to 3. It is of interest to note that "Rowdy" Elliott, University of Wisconsin star, is coaching the backfield at Whitewater this year. La Crosse won from the State Teachers' college at Winona 20 to 0.

Stout was defeated 14 to 0 by Macalester college. Stevens Point was swamped 40 to 0 by Lawrence college. Eau Claire participated in an informal game with Hamline university and made a good showing.

YANKS FAVORED TO WIN IN BIG WALL ST. WAGER

NEW YORK.—By the Associated Press. — One of the largest single wagers so far on the world's series was recorded on Friday when a Wall street firm announced it had placed $4,400 against $4,000, representing odds of 11 to 10, that the New York Yankees would capture the series from the New York Giants. Several freak bets also have been made, among them several at odds of 1 to 3, that either team will win the first two games; 1 to 7 that either will capture the first three games straight, and 1 to 15 that either will win four straight and the series.

WISCONSIN MEETS FIRST SEASON TEST WITH COE TODAY

MADISON, Wis.—The University of Wisconsin football team meets its first test of the season Saturday when with a new style of play and trained by Jack Ryan a new coach, it runs against Coe college at Camp Randall.

A short chalk talk yesterday ended the training of the Badgers. They are reported in good condition for the fray. With most of the men able to participate.

It will be largely a remade team from that of last season that Wisconsin is to use.

CHICAGO PITTED AGAINST COLORADO AGGIES SATURDAY

CHICAGO, Ill.—Chicago representing the Western conference went up against the Rocky Mountain brand of football Saturday when it faced the Colorado Aggies in the second game of the season for both teams, each having won easy victories a week ago, from the Michigan Aggies and Colorado from Wyoming.

The Colorado team was expected put forth its best efforts in the opening periods while its back-field was fresh. Relying at first on line plunges and end runs and punt formation.

The Chicago line is expected to be under a severe test as the Colorado team is reputed to have a bag of tricks that they have been using with unfailing success in practice.

DRYS AT FOOTBALL GAME

MADISON, Wis.—Among those present at the opening football game at Camp Randall this afternoon will be members of the state prohibition forces. Deputy dry sleuths will probably attend all games this year in their search for liquor vendors.

CAMPION OPENS UP SATURDAY AGAINST LOYOLA OF CHICAGO

Coach Walsh Anticipates Hard Battle With Windy City Squad

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis.—The football lid for Campion's 1923 season will be pried open Saturday when Campion will mix with the strong Loyola U. team. Campion so far has been showing real class and will make the Windy city school hustle to stop them from registering a victory. That Coach Walsh is expecting a hard game is evident by the way he has been working his men.

What will make the game particularly hard fought is the fact that seven of Campion's men hail from Chicago, among them some former Loyola academy stars.

It is probable that Captain Lynch and O'Connell will start at the end positions. Martaugh and Golmore tackles, Siehr and Mulvaine guards, McKenzye center, Hoban quarter, Brehm and Moloney halfs, and Bartleman at full. The coach has been working these men as regulars. Brehm and Bartleman have proven to be the season's finds, and will undoubtedly strengthen the team's offensive playing.

Edith Cummings, Alexa Stirling, in Golf Finals

RYE, N. Y.— By the Associated Press.—Miss Edith Cummings of Chicago, met today in the final round of the 1923 title tournament, Miss Alexa Stirling, of New York, a native Georgian, who has held the national championship three times.

WANT STRIBBLING TO MEET CARPENTIER

COLUMBUS, Ga.—By The Associated Press.—The excitement caused by the events preceding and following the McTigue-Stribling fight for the world's light heavyweight championship here last Thursday, which threw this city into turmoil for two days, gradually was receding Saturday. The interest of fight fans turned to the new venture of the local post of the American Legion—an attempt to stage a fight here next spring between George Carpentier, and W. L. "Young" Stribling, Macon Ga., high school youth, who was awarded a draw at the end of a ten round bout with McTigue, present titleholder.

NEGOTIATIONS FOR GAME ARE CLOSED FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Game to Supplant Proposed Contest With the Philadelphia Americans

MADISON HERE FOR TWIN BILL AT COPELAND SUNDAY

Showers and McCauley to Hurl for La Crosse Nelsons

Negotiations whereby the St. Paul American association baseball club, close contenders with Kansas City for the league championship, will come to Copeland park to battle the La Crosse Nelsons on Sunday, October 14, were closed Friday afternoon.

This announcement brings fans out of the air on the proposed Philadelphia proposition, pending for some over a month. The Saints promise to offer equally as big an attraction.

At present the Saints are in the midst of a terrific battle for honors in the association with the Kansas City club, but from the present standing it looks as though the Kaws will cop easily. Consequently, the St. Paul management Friday replied definitely to the locals' request for a game here.

MACKS NOT COMING

An announcement coming from the La Crosse Nelson baseball club late Saturday morning was to the effect that the Philadelphia Americans had picked another route than that leading through this city for their western coast trip. The local club, according to a wire received, was the only one that had given the Macks encouragement for coming this way. It seems they have picked a southern route that will give them more games enroute.

And Sunday will afford an unusual opportunity for La Crosse fans to see the team which meets the Saints in action. The locals play a double bill with Madison, two games with the "home guards," in the words of a Madison sport writer, have been raving to book for some time.

"Rube" Showers of the Minneapolis association club, and "Syl" McCauley, whom everybody knows, will do the slabbing for the Nelsons. Showers is scheduled to hurl the morning game at 10 o'clock, with Mac on the hill in the afterpiece at 3 o'clock.

To claim an advantage over the Capital city aggregation for the season, Satek's cohorts must slap out wins in both ends of the meet. To lose one would give Madison an advantage of 3 to 2 games.

But with the old gang hitting on all six, it shouldn't be so difficult to overcome this band of invaders Sunday.

Everybody out!

'BOUT BETWEEN TOMMY-GEORGES IS ABOUT ASSURED

Teams are Announced at Evening Meeting Held at the Association Building

Thursday evening the captains and majors for the "Y" Round-up met at the Y. M. C. A. building and turned in a good report. It showed 84 men already signed up to assist in this quick and snappy job. The men are enrolling more willingly and quickly than in previous years and this promises good results during the actual round-up. With a complete organization the job will be an easy one.

The organization is made therefore with a general chairman who chooses five majors who in turn enroll four captains who sign up each five workers. This means a working force of 125 men. ## TITUS WILL RUN FOR RE-ELECTION

MADISON, Wis.—State Senator W. A. Titus, in Madison today, announced that he would be a candidate for re-election to the upper house of the Wisconsin legislature from the eighteenth district. The senator will run as a La Follette progressive candidate in the 1924 primary, he said.

Members of the legislature generally have the opinion that there will be no special session of the legislature, Senator Titus reported.

"Although agreement had been reached to bring the legislature together again this month, following adjournment without appropriations to the university and normal schools, it now appears that there is no likelihood of a session," he said. "It seems that the demand for an investigation of conditions in the state government has caused this change in plans.

COOLIDGE OPPOSES DEBT CIRCULATION

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Coolidge is unalterably opposed to circulation of the debts owed the United States by European countries, it was announced at the white house.

RENO STILL DIVORCE CAPITAL

RENO, Nev.—This city, famed throughout the world as a divorce center, ran true to form in 1922 when there were 743 divorces, compared with 485 marriages, according to statistics compiled by state officers. For the entire state of Nevada there were 1,626 divorces in 1922, compared with 935 marriages. Figures for 1918, the only ones available for comparison, show 1,001 marriages as against 648 divorces in that year.

DRY EDITOR SAYS JUDGES ARE EASY ON BOOTLEGGERS

MADISON.—Wisconsin judges, who he claims are too lenient to bootleggers, are arraigned by Alfred B. Tayntou editor of The Campaigner, dry publication edited at Madison.

Judge A. C. Hoppman's interpretation of the law that facts are required on which to base search warrants is called "one of the most flagrant cases in Wisconsin history of invoking a technicality of the law to shield a criminal caught in the act of crime."

Judge George Grimm of Jefferson county circuit court is also charged with being too lenient.

Taynton, who praised the administration of the state prohibition office by Commissioner J. Stanley Smith, has drawn objections from the W. C. T. U. and the Anti-Saloon league to his statements that these organizations also commended the work of Mr. Smith. Taynton says that he only wanted to express the commendation of the work of Mr. Smith and did not want to commend Smith himself because Smith is not in sympathy with the prohibition laws.

"Enforcement of Prohibition is steadily intensifying," he declares. "At first, the illicit traffickers, conscious of their guilt, offered little or no resistance to the dry officers. But what these law breakers then considered as something of a joke has now become a serious, life and death matter. The smugglers and rum runners are becoming increasingly defiant and do not hesitate in the prosecution of their business to resort to violence."

BURGLARS STEAL BURGLARS' LOOT

ASHLAND, Wis.—Is it burglary to burglarize a burglar's storehouse and steal stolen goods? It is, although some resident of the Mellen district evidently imagined that stolen goods are fair game. Hundreds of dollars worth of stolen property was discovered in a shack in the woods ten miles from Mellen owned by the Storm brothers, burglary suspects, when officers visited their shack some time ago.

Among the goods were found several sacks of flour stolen from a store in Mellen, according to identification.

The flour was left in the shack when the officers departed. When they returned a few days later the flour was gone. The thief has not yet been apprehended. No clues were left behind.

MINIER TO OPPOSE FREAR—DRYS HAPPY

MADISON, Wis.—Assemblyman Ethan B. Minier, St. Croix county, has announced his candidacy for congress against James A. Frear, and the announcement brings much joy to the drys, according to Alfred B. Taynton, one of the dry leaders of Madison. Minier was one of the wet thorns in the dry side in the assembly and it is believer that there is less likelihood of his election to congress than there would to his return to the legislature.

KU KLUX KLAN IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY.—The Ku Klux Klan has appeared in Mexico, but thus far has confined its activities to visits to newspaper offices and to writing communications to the press. The klansmen wear black robes and hoods and are chary with words, emphasizing their arguments with pistol flourishes. Their only entrance into public affairs has been a clean-up campaign conducted at Tacubaya, a suburb.

MOVIES

"SONNY"

Doubling for himself is a new experience in the screen life of Richard Barthelmess; but it occurs in his current attraction, "Sonny," at the Riviera theater again tonight, in which the star appears as both Sonny Crosby and Joe Peters. It is the first time he has had a dual role, and unprejudiced observers declare he does the two parts so discriminatingly that they actually appear to be two separate characters. "Sonny" is a vivid story of post war complications in the life of a returned veteran who is mistaken for a dead "buddy." The second chapter of the "Buffalo Bill" chapter play also shown.

LAST TIMES AT CASINO

For beauty of scenic backgrounds, both natural and built sets, for dramatic thrills, excellent acting and directing, "Enemies of Women," now at the Casino theater, is far out of the ordinary. It lives up to the press agent's claims for it—and far exceeds them in gorgeousness of settings and costumes and in the spectacular element which runs through it.

The cast is one of the kind that can't be beat. Lionel Barrymore is easily one of the half dozen greatest screen actors of the day. Playing opposite him is Alma Reubens, beautiful and gifted actress.

"GIRL WHO RAN WILD"

The coming to the Majestic theater next Sunday of "The Girl Who Ran Wild," a Universal attraction starring Gladys Walton, recalls to mind "The Miracle Man," one of the greatest successes in film history. For Joseph Dowling, the Miracle Man himself, is in the cast of this latest Walton starring vehicle.

The story is an adaptation of Bret Harte's famous story, "M'liss," a tale of the wild rush to California when gold was discovered in '49. The scenarization was made by Rupert Julian, who directed its production.

"THE BRASS BOTTLE"

Oriental dancing girls—a hundred of them.

Nubian slaves.

Eunuchs.

Slave girls.

Hanging lamps, fountains, rich tapestries, luxurious rugs, brilliant-hued cushions, hookahs, all the trappings of ancient Oriental splendor.

With these Maurice Tourneur took the most magnificent scenes of "The Brass Bottle," the unique intertwining of Arabian Nights' Entertainment and a modern English love story that is appearang at the Rivoli theater Sunday.

Harry Meyers is seen in turban, jewels and robe as Horace Ventimore, the young English architect whose modern home has been transformed into a palace of ancient Arabia by a genie, six score dancing girls pirouetted before him in an endeavor to turn his mind from his lovely fiancee.

COMMONS TO HELP MIDWEST WAR ON "PITTSBURGH PLUS"

MADISON, Wis.—Professor John R. Commons, University of Wisconsin economist, together with Dr. W. Z. Ripley, Harvard, and Dr. Frank A. Fetter, Princeton University, will appear before the federal trade commission at Washington, D. C., on December 10 to argue against the Pittsburgh plus system of fixing freight rates on steel.

The men will represent Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota and Iowa, who are the chief objectors to the discrimination in steel freight rates.

Professor Commons has a leave of absence from the university until the beginning of the second semester in order to permit him to carry on the work in Washington for Wisconsin.

WIDOW OF VICTIM OF BLACK HAND IS FOUND SLAIN

CHICAGO, Ill.—Mrs. Angeline D'Amico, 31 years old, whose husband was slain at Madison, Wis., a year ago by alleged black-handers, was found dead in her home Friday, a gun shot wound in her left breast. A coroner's inquest will be held.

The womans' body was found by her nine-year-old daughter when she returned from school. The police at first thought the woman had been slain, but decided she had killed herself after relatives and neighbors said she had been despondent since her husband's death and after finding a pistol with one exploded shell on the floor beside the body.

HERRING BLOCK FJORDS

TROMSOE, Norway.—The fjords in the extreme north, in the region of Tana and Vadsoe, have been literally blocked into a semi-solid state by herring shoals. The shoals often penetrate to the narrow heads of the fjords where they wedge tight into the jetties of small villages and fishing stations.

Several ships have been sent to the north to take advantage of the harvest, and others have arrived at the herring-oil factories heavily laden.

BROTHERHOOD HAS HALF OF $100,000 ENDOWMENT FUND

MADISON, Wis.—About half of the $100,000 endowment to be raised by Lutheran Brotherhood for the prosecution of their work has already been subscribed, according to reports reaching the convention here. An executive secretary to conduct the work of the brotherhood will be located at headquarters in Des Moines-Iowa. A state organization for Wisconsin is one of the proposals being considered at the convention.

WORLD CAMPAIGN BEING CONDUCTED BY YOUNG PEOPLE

Stirring Address Marks Opening of District Convention in Local Church

STATE FIELD SECRETARY REVEALS EXTENT OF WORK

Interesting Sessions Mark Gathering at Presbyterian Church

"We should no longer be satisfied to think of individual interests, when our own great country can be crossed in a little more than a day," said Rev. J. B. Gleason, state field secretary for Wisconsin Christian Endeavor societies, at the opening session of the western district convention held in First Presbyterian church Friday evening.

Miss Mary Shane, president of the district called the meeting to order and Prof. M. J. Lyon conducted a spirited song service, followed by the devotional period led by Rev. William Ledwick of Sparta Congregational church. Delegates from eight young people's societies of the district were present, representing four different denominations.

Continuing his address Rev. Mr. Gleason said: "I am glad to be a part of this great army, 'on the march with Christ,' which last clause, I understand, is the slogan of this convention. Truly we are a great army, which in these forty-two years of existence has belted the earth. There are now four million members, found in eighty thousand societies, and in eighty-seven denominations. While I am a Baptist, I am also a booster for this interdenominational movement, which not only stands for cooperation in Christian work, but which makes more efficient and enthusiastic workers within the churches to which its members may belong.

Reach Around World

"You will observe that the proposition in our slogan is 'with' Christ, which implies that we are in sympathy with His great world visions of helpfulness. Indeed our present day civilization has made us giants in hearing, seeing and acting; so that it is almost as easy at present to reach around the world as it was for the ancients to visit their neighbors. Think of the size of our ear, which with the radio, enables to hear across the continent. We are no longer thrilled by the imaginary tales of the "Seven League Boots' since our aviators hop across America in little more than a day. The strong arm of militarism has shown a marvelous reach since the great war of ten years ago. But the mission of Our Master, whom we have promised to serve, is a peace mission. Let us stand with him in every form of Christian work which makes for 'peace on earth and good will among men.'

"What are you in this world for, young people? Surely with this vision of a little world, drawn together by all the wonderful agencies of our twentieth century civilization, we can no longer think in terms of La Crosse, or of Wisconsin, or even of the United States. Is there not an inspiration in this world league, which is larger even than the league of nations. Jesus Christ would have us think through our own church activities as they concern citizenship, temperance, missions and world neighborliness. Then He would have us enter more intelligently and vigorously into the practical problem of helping others to get His view point."

Address of Welcome

In the address of welcome, delivered by Rev. John N. Strain, D. D., of the North La Crosse Presbyterian church, the invitation of that congregation was extended the delegates for the meetings on Saturday and on Sunday morning. Rev. Mr. Gleason will occupy the pulpit of the North church on Sunday morning. The conference program for Saturday touches many points of church administration as it concerns young people. Another helpful feature was the symposium by Mr. R. A. Fletcher of the boys' work department of the Y. M. C. A., who spoke upon "What Shall I Do With My Life." A banquet this evening, presided over by H. R. Leithold ex-district president, will be preceded by a stereopticon lecture on "Ben Hur" to be given by Dr. J. N. Strain.

There will be a "Quiet Hour" period at both the North and South Presbyterian churches on Sunday morning at 9:15 preceding the Bible schools. In the evening Mr. A. A. Alexander, state president, and Rev. Mr. Gleason will be in charge of the program at First Presbyterian church, Sixth and King streets. The sessions are open to the general public.

VON KAHR DENIES HE'S SEPARATIST

MUNICH.—By The Associated Press.—Dr. Von Kahr, Bavarian military dictator, Saturday declared that the reports that he favored restoration of the monarchy were without foundation. He was not a separatist, but quite to the contrary, stood for the preservation of a strong state authority in the interests of the entire republic.

A decree issued Saturday forbids the publication and distribution of all communist newspapers and literature throughout Bavaria.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK—Bear selling of the usual leaders coincident with a moderate inquiry for a number of the rails and oils and a resumption of pool operations in certain specialties gave the stock market an irregular appearance in Saturday's opening. United States Steel, Baldwin and Studebaker, all opened fractionally lower. Pan American issues were heavy but other oils showed a better tone. United States Cast Iron Pipe common and preferred, each established new highs for the year on reports of large current earnings. Rails were under the leadership of Chesapeake and Ohio, which was pushed up 2½ points to 67¾. Ann Arbor preferred advanced 2¼ and "Big Four" and Nickle Plate, one each. Industrials continued heavy with selling pressure concentrated in the rubbers, minor steels and motor accessories to losses of one to two points being recorded by United States Rubber first preferred, Stewart Warner, Du Pont, Nova Scotia Steel and Iron Products. Foreign exchanges opened reactionary.

The continued uncertainty of business reports made further irregularity in the movement of industrial stocks in Saturday's market, but numerous railroad shares were active and strong. Buying of the rails was influenced by rumors of prospective dividend increases or the resumption of such payments and the maintenance of record car loadings weekly and the large earnings. Chesapeake and Ohio climbed to above 69c on report that the dividend would be raised from four to six per cent. Important declines were limited to a few groups, especially the motor and motor accessories issues but these losses were largely recovered later when the advance in rails became more vigirous. Jones Brothers' Tea tumbled to below 26, a new low and Transcontinental Oil also recorded a new minimum at two. The closing was steady. Sales approximated 300,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

CHICAGO, Ill.—Wheat quickly advanced in price Saturday after a hesitating start. Initial weakness due to local selling was soon more than offset by prospects of government's attempt to afford agricultural relief. It soon become apparent that at least for the time being, bears lacked courage for any determined aggression and prices ascended in some cases 1½c from the low point early. The opening, which varied from unchanged to ⅛c off with December $1.07⅝ to $1.07⅝ and May $1.11⅛ to $1.11¼, was followed by a slight further sag and then a sharp upturn.

Subsequently, extensive buying in which one of the largest houses on the exchange was conspicuous, hoisted values still more. Traders meanwhile gave special attention to Washington reports about changes of an increase in import duties on wheat, the close was strong, 1⅝c to 2⅝c net higher, with December $1.09⅜ to $1.09⅞ and May, $1.13⅛ to $1.13⅛ to ¼.

Corn and oats fluctuated with wheat. After opening unchanged to ⅝c lower December 74¾ to ⅝c, the corn market dropped a little all around and then scored moderate gains.

Scarcity of old corn brought about notable strength in prices for October delivery later months were bought freely by leading commission houses. The close was strong, 1½ to 1¾c to 3⅝c net higher, with October 99c and December 76⅝ to ½c to 76½c.

Oats started unchanged, December 3½c, eased down a trifle and later showed something of an advance.

Provisions were easy in line with hog values.

FORD RUNS AGAIN THRESHER WHICH GAVE HIM START

Searches Out Old Separator Which Brought Auto Idea to Him in 1882

DETROIT Mich. — Running the same threshing machine which he had operated on the farm of John Gleason in 1882, Henry Ford Friday threshed oats on the farm of Jim Gleason, brother of the oriignal owner. Ford worked the tractor all day while Gleason fed bundles into the machine. During the day 780 bushels of oats were threshed and when evening came Ford asserted he would be back Saturday to finish the work.

Several years ago Ford decided he would like to see the old machine and began a search for it. The only identification he had was the number "345," which he recalled. With the aid of the manufacturers, after a long search, the machine was found in disuse on a farm in Pennsylvania. The number plate, the only means of identifying it, was found in the kitchen of the farm house, where it was in use as a patch on a cook stove.

The farmer wanted $10 for the machine and Ford purchased it presenting him with an automobile in addition to the purchase price. He had the separator sent to his factory, repaired and put in working order. A few days ago Ford sent the tarsher to the Gleason farm and Friday he appeared to run the machine, which he says in one of his books, was the one that gave him his first idea of building an automobile.

FINED FOR ASSAULT

WINONA, Minn.—Alphonse and Max Grochowski, brothers, were fined $250 each by Judge C. E. Callaghan in district court on their pleas of guilty to a charge of assault in the second degree. Both men paid their several days.

The charge against the Grochowski brothers was the result of a dispute at Minnesota City at 2 a. m. August 27, in which it was alleged that they had assaulted Felix F. Fockens, beating and kicking him into unconsciousness, knocking out two of his teeth, and forcing him to remain in bed for fines today.

CYLINDER REGRINDING
GRIND YOUR CYLINDER—WHY?

Because you know that when an automobile comes from the maker the engine has true, ROUND CYLINDERS. You also know that as soon as you start to run your ENGINE wear takes place in the CYLINDER. Unfortunately the wear is not UNIFORM, and is only a question of time when your CYLINDERS are out of round and taper. Your engine pumps oil, fouls plugs, develops a knock or piston slap or consumes oil and gasoline out of proportion to the service rendered. Therefore you cannot correct the error simply by changing pistons and rings. To overcome these troubles your CYLINDERS must be REGROUND and fitted with oversize pistons and rings. Then you will have an ENGINE the same as what you got from the maker.

FORD SPECIAL—Ford cylinders reground and fitted with oversize pistons, wrist pins, bushings and rings, complete, $16.00.

All work guaranteed.
Prices reasonable.

QUAKE AND TYPHOON — KING LIKES DICTATOR — A LOVELY RED-HEAD — SWIM PARADE

BEAUTIFUL HAIR, TOO—Mary Muller was declared the most beautiful red-haired girl at the Syracuse, N. Y., State Fair in a contest for redheads only. For winning she gets a week's vacation free at a big hotel in New York with a chaperone.

AWAY WENT PAVEMENT! — Even the pavement couldn't withstand a recent severe storm in Oklahoma. Photo shows how it was carried off the street by force of the water.

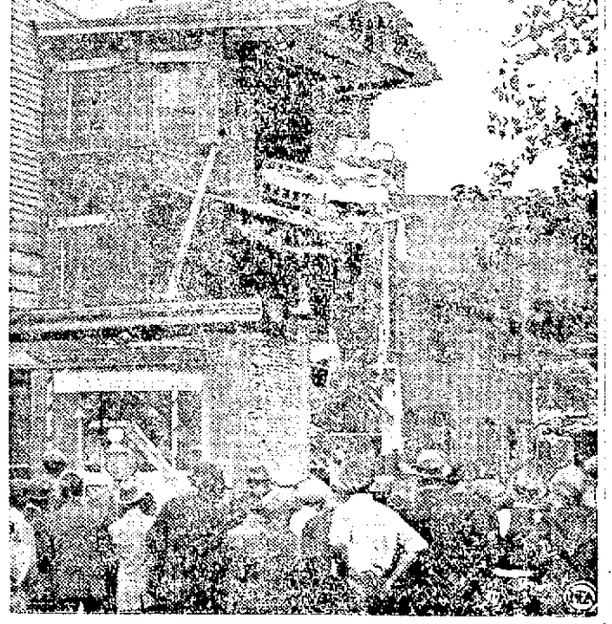
TOO HOT FOR EVEN FIREMEN—Firemen were forced to abandon their equipment when fire destroyed a big furniture store at Erie, Pa., with a $200,000 loss. So intense was the heat that firemen were unable to get close enough to the blaze to throw water upon it. Several firemen were injured. The pumper in the foreground of the equipment was abandoned by its crew a minute after it started to work when flames shot out from the windows of the store.

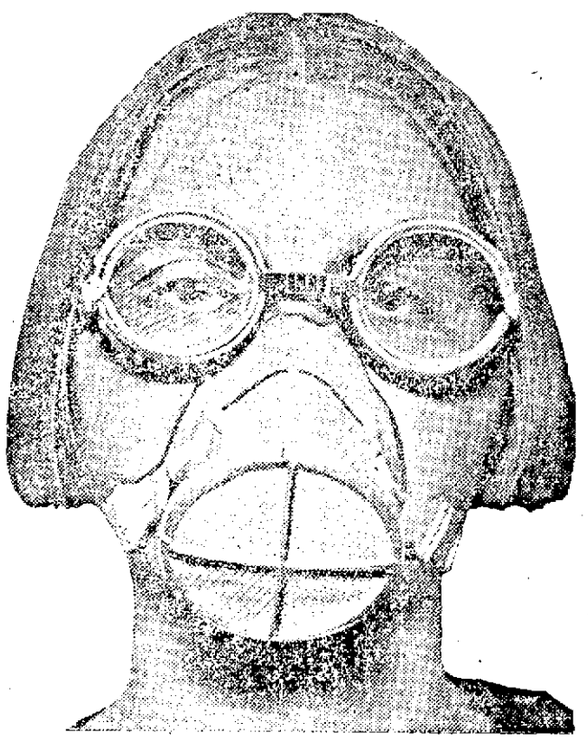
TRY THIS WITH YOUR FLIVVER—This isn't a toy. It's a real auto, with three speeds and everything. The maker lives in Kingston, England.

RHINELAND — Joseph Smeets is one of the leaders of the Rhineland secession movement, and is endeavoring to wreck the German state as now constituted.

THEY'RE ROOTING FOR YANKS — Waite Hoyt, pitcher for the New York Yankees, is sure of plenty of support when he steps into the box during the world series. And here is the major part of it—his wife and baby son.



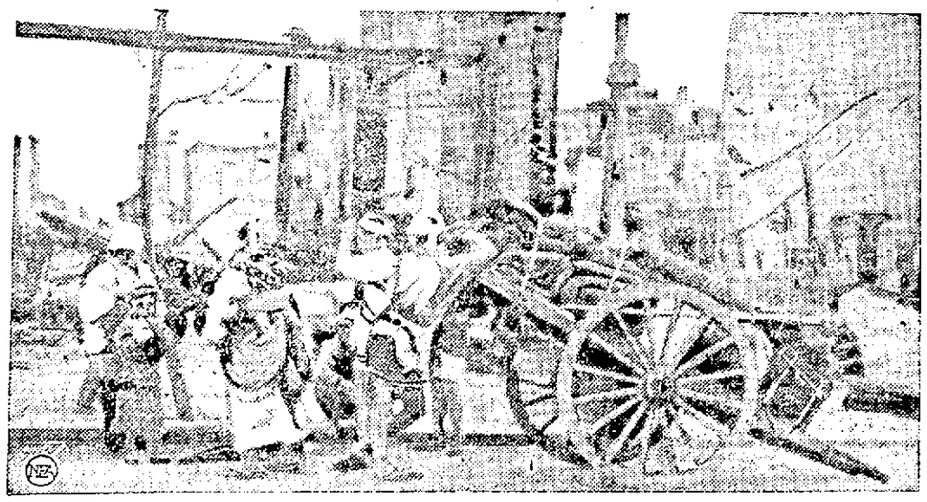
PLAYFUL LITTLE THING—And here is the much talked about bridal present given by Bernard Ruhe to his daughter, Mrs. Carl F. Strohm. Out in Forest Park, L. I., the baby elephant is having a great old time.



CAN'T BE KISSED!—This young lady is not wearing an anti-osculation mask, but is demonstrating a new type respirator for use among workers in drugs, cement, plaster and other dusty materials, to prevent infection of the nose and throat.

PRESIDENT?—Miss Margaret Bondfield, prominent English labor leader, now is being mentioned for the post of president of the British Trade Union; a post which no woman ever has held.

ALARM CLOCKS NOT NEEDED—Leonard G. Barron and his family of Washington, D. C., were ready to retire when the walls of his house caved in. Six persons were in the house, including Mrs. Barron's 82-year-old mother, but no one was injured.



SPARED FROM THE INFERNO'S MAW—These Japanese refugees are fleeing with all their worldly possessions thrown with haste into the cart which stands against a background of volcanic ruin in the business section of Tokyo. The tiny tot wearing the kimono is crying from hunger. And his mother, carrying another babe on her back, is doing her best to stop the lad's tears.

FOLLOW THE LEADER—How would you like to "follow the leader" for 18 miles in a swimming stunt? This shows bluejackets of the Yokosuka Marine Division arriving at Tsukishima after swimming the Tokyo Bay in single line formation.

KING ALFONSO OF SPAIN (left) chatting with General de Rivera, in Madrid, just after the general assumed control of the "revolutionists" after the recent mild uprising. Both appear to be well satisfied, but each is taking a shrewd look at the other.

You can now buy the new Four Door Sedan for $685.00 F. O. B. Detroit.

Changes featured in the new Ford Sedan make it a better looking, roomier car. A higher radiator with a trim apron at its base lends dignity befitting a closed car. The higher hood and enlarged cowl curving gracefully to the dash give a stylish sweep to its body lines, and afford additional leg room for occupants of the front seat. All body fittings—window regulators, door grips, door latch levers, door lock, dome light—are finished in nickel. The upholstery carries a fine dark line on a soft brown background that does not easily show dust or dirt. Silk window curtains to harmonize for the three rear windows enhance the style of the car and add to the comfort of its passengers.
